

PROCESSINGPOINT PAYMENT PROCESSING

Great Rates, Great Service

ProcessingPoint's Payment Processing is so Much More than a Swipe!

For many businesses being able to accept all forms of electronic payments, including credit cards and debit cards, is an afterthought. No longer an option, businesses must give their customers the ability to pay with cards, and many businesses often get set up with service by providers that do not understand their needs.

A business has literally hundreds of options to get started processing electronic payments. From club stores and other retailers to banks, there is no shortage of companies that offer Merchant Accounts. Searching the Internet will give a business owner countless options with rates and prices that vary dramatically.

While banks and office superstores may offer great rates, what they do not offer is the expertise to understand your business and give you the tools you need to not only save money on transactions, but to save money by increasing operational efficiencies.

Payment processing is not a "one size fits all" commodity service. Each business has varying needs and requirements that, if unrecognized, could create thousands of dollars of additional expenses in processing fees and man-hours.

ProcessingPoint is staffed by payment processing experts. We design tailor made solutions to meet your businesses needs. In addition to saving businesses money by offering low rates, we save businesses thousands of dollars annually.

Whether you process two credit card transactions a day or two million, ProcessingPoint invests the time and energy to understand your business needs and deliver the most cost-effective solution for you.

Our Customized Payment Processing Solutions offer you the Following:

- Low or zero start costs (including hardware and software)
- Low processing and transaction fees
- Free consulting services to assist in optimizing efficiency
- 24/7 service and support

Our solutions are designed for any type of business, no matter when, where, or how you need to accept electronic payments.

ProcessingPoint offers the most current technology, from state-of-the-art POS systems to the latest Internet processing software, all designed to increase your efficiency and save you time and money.

As the scope and nature of business has changed over the years, many of our clients now find the need for multiple accounts in order to reach their customers more often. ProcessingPoint will work with you to set up payment processing services that are specific to your business needs.
